RE: Closure of schools in the Barossa and Implications for Immanuel Gawler

You will have seen in the media reports this afternoon that schools in the Barossa have been ordered by SA Health to close. This is effective immediately.

While Immanuel Gawler is not on their list of sites to close (and we will be open tomorrow morning – Monday the 30th March), we do have a number of students who live in the Barossa.

Students who live in the areas cited by SA Health for closure (Lyndoch, Tanunda, Williamstown, Angaston, Nuriootpa) are not to come to school tomorrow. Please contact the school on Monday morning should you require any clarification.

These are certainly unsettling times and your support is appreciated.
